Engaging Food System Actors for Nutrition at the Country Level: A New Approach in Rwanda

Join us for a dynamic discussion on aligning country food systems with societal needs: nutrition, equitable economic development and a sustainably healthy environment, with a look at a Rwandan value chain that has reduced post-harvest process duration by 85%, and an opportunity to contribute to a food system stakeholder engagement model.

This discussion will be moderated by Dan Irvine, Senior Director for Health and Nutrition, World Vision International, and feature speakers:

- Peiman Milani, Global Lead for Public Private Partnerships, Sight and Life
- Alex Sanderson, Program Director, Kumwe Harvest
