

Future Smart Food Fair

Share experience, raise awareness and understanding on the importance of promising Neglected and Underutilized Species (NUS) - an action to accelerate the end of hunger and malnutrition

Time & Venue

Day 1

8:30 am - 5:30 pm

28 November 2018

Intercontinental Hotel

Opening Ceremony
(1:30 pm ~ 2:00 pm)

1. FSF Fair opening
2. Book launch on FSF
3. Gallery Walk
4. Signing of Memorandum of Intent on FSF: FAO and ICRISAT

Day 2 & 3

7:30 am - 5:30 pm

29-30 November 2018

Centara Grand at Central World

Bangkok, Thailand

#FutureSmartFood #ZeroHunger

Why is FSF important?

Future Smart Food (FSF) are the Neglected and Underutilized Species (NUS) of food that are

- nutrition dense
- climate resilient
- economically viable
- locally available/adaptable

FSF is essential to increase dietary and production diversity

What is the FSF Fair?

In the FSF Fair, you are invited to visit, discover and taste the varieties of FSF cereals, roots & tubers, nuts & pulses, horticulture and fruits & vegetables

- FSF specimens (dried/preserved)
- FSF products (processed food/snacks/drinks)
- FSF food recipes, traditional storage/cooking tools/utensils/clothing

Participating countries and partners

- | | | |
|--------------|------------|----------------------------|
| ▪ Bangladesh | ▪ Lao PDR | ▪ Philippines |
| ▪ Bhutan | ▪ Myanmar | ▪ Thailand |
| ▪ Cambodia | ▪ Nepal | ▪ Vietnam |
| ▪ India | ▪ Pakistan | ▪ Bioversity International |

For further information, please contact :

Xuan Li

Senior Policy Officer, Regional Initiative-Zero Hunger Delivery Manager

FAO Regional Office for Asia and The Pacific

Email : Xuan.Li@fao.org

Or visit:

about FSF - <http://www.fao.org/asiapacific/perspectives/zero-hunger/en/>

about the fair - <https://www.ifpri-faobangkokconference.org>